

CORRESPONDENCE.

Deer Settings.

Quite a number of our young men from this vicinity have gone to the lumber woods. We wish the shanty boys good times.

Captain McLeod has moved into his new house.

That comet is moving south with his train. There's no danger now.

Our German friend is back among us again.

At the McDonald auction sale, bidding was lively and most everything went high, especially cattle. Several cows went so high that they might have "jumped over the moon." We nearly ruined our eyesight watching them go up. T—n.

Large Notes.

Report of Greenwood U. S. S. Dist No. 3. No. of meetings 28; Average attendance 51; No. of verses recited as follows, by three little girls not over 10, 12 and 13 years: Armina Way, 3,157; Margaret Way, 2,248; Abbie Near, 2,348. We challenge the county to beat this. Whole no. of verses recited by school 9,479. Part of the school used lesson leaves and did not learn verses. Financial Report and our expenses for papers and cards $15.30. Same was raised by penny collections etc. After regular exercises the general report was read and adopted.

The following pupils received special prizes for learning most verses: Armina Way a splendid book; Margaret Way a splendid book; Abbie Near a large picture entitled "In memory of our fallen heroes;" Betsey Shiel and Telford Hill each a large book; Hannah Easton and Mary Martin each an album. The rest of the school received a large picture card and motto. Miss Eletha Potter has taught an infant class from 3 to 5 years of age and they being questioned answered nearly every question out of about 20. Miss Potter is one of the best Sabbath school teachers in the county.

There were 81 persons present including Revs S. Riley, of Grant and G. Carter, of Brockway Centre. Each of the ministers made some very appropriate remarks.

A vote of thanks was then tendered the superintendent, W. S. Hill, the teachers and officers for conducting the school in such an able manner. The meeting was then dismissed with singing. This reminds us of days gone by. Moved by Elder Riley supported by Elder Carter that a copy of this meeting be furnished to two papers for publication. One at Brockway Centre and one at Ft. Huron.—Unanimously carried. Respectfully submitted, F. A. HILL, Secretary of G. U. S. S.

Mr Farr is pushing the hall as fast as possible. We want to rent a good wagon maker. Who will be the lucky man.

Elder Riley is at present engaged holding protracted meetings at our school house.

D. Malligan, O. Taylor and W. Shiel are plastering their houses and building chimneys thereon.

Mr Centre has moved into his new house. More anon, Monoc.

They have struck the key note at last in Paris on the duel question. It seems that all the terrible and revolting duels in that country in the past, where pistols were used no one was ever injured and the duel business began to lag as it was considered a farce and no one would engage in a duel who had any desire to kill anyone whom they had a grudge against. But the other day a couple of rival actors settled their difficulties by a duel with stout clubs, and just pounded the overbearing stuff out of each other. Now, while this new and decidedly unique style of dueling will probably not have a large run in Paris, as it is too dangerous; and anyone who engages in it is liable to be injured more or less, still it opens up a grand field in the business and we hope it will become popular in this country at least. Then, when some blockhead gets his back up at any little article that appears in a newspaper, that reflects upon the character of his ancestors, and he sends a challenge to the editor, it will be regarded as a breach of etiquette or evidence of bad breeding for the editor to pronounce clubs as the weapons, and while there may be some blood shed in this new and improved style of duel, it will be just chuck full of fun. It would look far better and be much more effective to have the duels of the country fought with clubs, and we are glad those Paris fellows have seen the point and inaugurated this new style of dueling. After a few of our hot blooded folks here in America, who are always anxious to defend their honor, have had their lower jaw knocked out of plumb, and one eye shot, and a nose scattered around and battered up so badly by his friend wouldn't know it, it will put a damper on the modern duel. Science is making some wonderful strides in this world of ours.
